MANOR PRIMARY SCHOOL
Autumn Term Newsletter

Great fun was had by all on our Roald Dahl day last week. School was filled with fabulous Fantastic Mr Foxes, brilliant BFG's, super Sophies, magical Matildas, terrifying Mrs Trunchbolls, Wonderful Willy Wonkas, golden ticketed Charlies, disgusting Twits, crocodiles, witches, a Roly-Poly Bird, oompa loompas and one very purple Violet Beauregarde. Lots of parents joined the fun at the start of the day and the staff all got involved. All of this in aid of creating a love of reading and a reading culture across school where children want to pick up a book and don't want to put it down. As a teacher it is great to hear a class-wide groan as you ask children to stop reading their books! This sort of day feeds into our school priority for improvement of reading for this year. If we can further enthuse children to be avid readers it helps them with their writing, it means they develop a wide knowledge and understanding of language and the world but most of all it can be a lifelong love that they can enjoy. We will be introducing some new reading initiatives through the year and working hard to further enhance our teaching of reading across school. With the help of volunteers in school and parents at home we will soon have children choosing to pick up a book instead of an i-pad or choosing to read a book on an i-pad! The next big reading event is next week when we have the Premiere League Trophy visiting. More details on the next page...
