Best behaved pupils!

It is rare for a visitor to our school to leave without saying how wonderfully well behaved our children are. It is so normal that I probably don't share it with you enough... so here goes with some recent examples:

- Last week the Dyslexia Friendly Award moderator was quite insistent that we reward the children she had been shown round by (Tom G and Luisa) and that the rest of the school were a credit to the staff and parents for their behaviour.
- Owls class had endless compliments from the many people who showed them around the canal boats at Glascote Locks last week.
- Our music, French and PE teachers who travel round different schools tell us we have among the best behaved children they come across and that there is rarely any disruption to their lessons compared with many other settings.

I could go on but would soon run out of space. Just to sum up; your children are fabulously behaved in school and are quick to recognise and correct any slips from this very high standard. You should all be very proud... I know we are!

Well done Sophie

Sophie (and Dad) represented us brilliantly in the final of the Trust Bake-off this week. I know this because they kindly brought another sample of their baking back to school for staff to try! Congratulations to Stoneydelph Primary who won with chocolate bumble bee cakes but I'm sure Sophie and Dad were a close second!
